

NOAH PHYLLIS LEVIN

Noah Levin taught painting at Santa Rosa Junior College from 1981-82. In 1982 she moved to New York where she sold her paintings and work on paper to individuals, corporations, and special collections. From 1986 to 1998 she earned a living designing luxury textiles while continuing to paint. In the summer of 1998 she returned to San Francisco and painting full time.

SELECTED EXHIBITIONS

Side Gallery Show, Charles Campbell Gallery	2005
Charles Campbell Gallery at San Francisco International Art Exposition	2005
Group Show (jury: Thomas Seligman, N. Oliveira, et al), Stanford University	2004
Group Show, DEN, San Francisco	2004
Solo Show, Big Pagoda Gallery, San Francisco	2002
Solo Show, Big Pagoda Gallery, San Francisco	2001
Group Show (curated by Sam Messer), The Painting Center, New York	2000
Group Show, John Christian Gallery, New York	1984
Three-Person Show, Galerie Geilsdorfer, Cologne, Germany	1983
Solo Show, Pace Price Gallery, San Francisco	1981

EDUCATION

M.A., Painting, San Francisco State University	1980
B.A., English, Stanford University	1964
Study/residence in Tours, France	1962